

Alberta Lake Management Society

My name is Bob Hornseth and I live on the shore of Moose Lake in northeastern Alberta. I have been a volunteer with ALMS for several years now and have lived at the lake for the past 25 years. Over the years I have watched the lake go up and down, clear and covered with algae, fishing good and fishing poor. I have also watched as the development around the lake has increased substantially, as has the traffic on it. It is obvious that all this affects the lake and with the help of ALMS we have some idea of what we can do to keep the lake in as good a shape as possible. Without some control we will lose control and will not be able to enjoy the lake as we have in the past. I feel that it is very important that programs such as ALMS continue to receive funding as without it we will lose this outdoor experience.
